NEWS OF STATE.

HENDERSON X-ROADS NOTES.

Sunday being a pleasant morning, a good audience convened at Winston Chapel. The Sunday school lesson was read and discussed by many. Great enthusiasm was witnessed in the discussion. At 11 o'clock Rev. A. J. Polk, the pastor, delivered an interesting sermon from John 15:13—"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Miss Bettie Wilson and Mr. Alexander Winston are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Winston.

Mrs. Fannin has been very sick. Miss Willa May Bond is a fine organist as well as an expert operator on her sewing machine.

GOODLETTSVILLE NOTES.

On the evening of July 25, Mr. Ed. Vesper and Mrs. Emma Joyner were united in bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride. That they are both highly esteemed is evidenced by the fact that their wedding took place in the presence of a large concourse of people. Besides local friends, people came from Nashville, Cedar Hill and Ridge Top. Many valuable presents were received. They were both beautifully and appropriately dressed and came forward smiling. Rev. R. C. McClendon performed the ceremony.

SHELBYVILLE NOTES.

The town is alive with the hum of industry. Building of new houses is going on all over town. Quite a number of colored citizens are having electric lights installed in their dwellings.

The new depot is being built, and with the number of new and beautiful residences on depot street, Shelbyville is beginning to assume metropolitan airs.

The Girls' Dormitory of Turner Normal Institute is in process of erection, and is to be completed by the fall opening in September. Dr. J. A. Jones, the president, is in town after an extended trip looking after the construction of the new building. He reports that a wide-awake interest is now manifested all over the state in the direction of the institution. Dr. Jones will leave soon for Memphis, where a great educational mass meeting is being planned to be held in Avery Chapel A. M. E. Church. He will then tour West Tennessee.

Mr. Will Burken is on the sick list. Rev. H. L. P. Jones, of Pulaski, was in the city recently looking at some property with a view of buying and locating here.

The municipal election is affording the colored voter an excellent opportunity to see how important he is. The Negro vote cuts some big capers in local politics every two years hereabouts.

Dr. J. A. Jones has accepted an invitation to address the colored citizens of Giles County, August 8, at Pulaski.

The A. M. E. Church and the First Baptist Church have both recently undergone renovation.

All the county schools have opened and teachers have gone to work.
